

In the future, I want to be an interpreter, which has been my dream since I was a little girl. Being an interpreter is very exciting and there are some reasons for my choice. Firstly, I want to acquire more and more languages. During my childhood, I was impressed by the Japan's cartoons. I spent a long time watching and have troubles with it. I couldn't understand what they conveyed because of the different speech between us. From that time forward, I determine myself and take account of learning English.
